

OLD TWENTIETH REG'T REUNION

Sept. 17. Anniversary of Bloodiest Battle of Civil War, in Which Regiment Was Engaged—McClellan Blamed for Waste of Life Without Positive Victory—Had Double Lee's Men.

On Friday, September 17, surviving members of the Old Twentieth Regiment, New York Volunteers (80th Regiment), will hold their annual reunion at the Kingston Hotel, Crown street. This is known by the veterans of the Civil War if the 60's as Antietam day, and the members of the Old Twentieth who were in the battle of Antietam will never forget that day, as it was the most violent battle of the Civil War. It was a "drawn battle," but under the conditions that prevailed, it left but little honor to the commander of the Army of the Potomac. According to the historians he should have given an altogether different account of himself under the advantages in which he fought.

This famous engagement took place on September 17, 1862, and began at 6 o'clock in the morning, it raged fiercely until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and when the stars came out that night they looked down upon one of the bloodiest fields of the war.

The net result of the struggle, after ten hours, may be stated in the words of Brigadier General Francis Winthrop Palfrey, in his book, "The Antietam and Fredericksburg."

Tactically, the battle of Antietam was a draw, with the advantage inclined slightly to the Federals. The Confederates, however, held most of the ground on which they fought, and held it not only to the close of the battle, but for more than twenty-four hours after, and then retired unmolested and in good order.

Swinton, in his "Army of the Potomac," says: "Antietam was a drawn battle, in which McClellan had suffered as much as he had inflicted. What McClellan knew was that the battle had cost the terrible sacrifice of over twelve thousand men; that two of his corps were completely shattered, and that his oldest generals counseled a surcease of operations." In this contest the Federals lost a fourth more men than did the Confederates.

The battle of Antietam caused General Robert E. Lee to turn his back to Old Virginia, and on that account it was looked upon as a Union victory; but as a fight, it was the most brilliant that was ever met up by the army of Northern Virginia. The generalship of Lee throughout that terrible day was well-nigh perfect. It would be difficult to find anywhere in the long and varied annals of military achievement, a more brilliant day's work than that of Lee at Antietam.

In the battle of Antietam Lee had considerably less than half the men in the army of McClellan. His force numbered 40,000 men, while the Federals had close to 90,000. And yet so consummate was the skill of Lee in maneuvering and shifting from point to point that he was always able to meet the opposing forces with enough men to hold them in check. With no reserves, and outnumbered more than two to one, Lee held his lines throughout the ten hours of stubborn assault, and at sundown stood practically where he had stood at sunrise.

It was no doubt a great disappointment to the North when the result of the battle became known, and it was felt that McClellan should have given an altogether different account of himself. After all due allowance is made for the generalship of Lee and the splendid character of his men, it remains true that McClellan should have allowed the army of Northern Virginia to get back to Fries. The chances are a thousand to one that if McClellan's 52,000 men—as brave men as ever nullified a trigger—had been led by Lee and Stonewall Jackson, the army of Northern Virginia would never have fought another battle. It would have been annihilated.

The band will play their last concert on Labor Day.

COAL MINING AT A STANDSTILL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 4.—The anthracite industry was virtually at a standstill today. The insurgent "vacation" has not gained ground, but the week-end and the approach of Labor Day has given the mine workers a real vacation feeling.

Early reports show that 150 collieries were idle today and about 137,000 men in idleness. The tieup will be general over Labor Day and probably on Tuesday. The backbone of the strike may be broken Wednesday, when union leaders and operators look for a "back to the mines" rush.

Labor day meetings will be held in great numbers and missionaries will be sent out urging the men to remain loyal to their organization and return to work.

The action of the general scale committee in inviting John Dempsey, president of district number 1, to resign, was regarded as a blow at the insurgents.

Districts 7 and 9 are thoroughly tied up but union leaders claim that the ranks of the insurgents will break next week. A break has already set in district number 1. No disorders have been reported.

The city schools will reopen on Tuesday.

OLD FASHIONED HORSE AND BUGGY WILL COME BACK

The old "horse and buggy" which the automobile has almost pushed off the map may be prominent in Washington's next inaugural parade. Dr. G. T. Harding, father of the Republican nominee for the Presidency, promises to drive the "bug" in which he rides to see his patients down Pennsylvania Avenue when his son is inducted into the Presidency. Dr. Harding here is about to make his morning rounds.

AMUSEMENT FOR "Y" CAMP VISITORS

Great preparations are being made for the entertainment of a large crowd at the Y. M. C. A. picnic at its camp in the mountains back of the Ashokan Reservoir on next Monday, Labor Day. Expectations are that there will be hundreds there, going in private cars, with friends and by bus. Men and boys, women and children, all members of families of Association members will be on Monday assured of a full day of enjoyment, as well as pleasure from the moment that they arrive on the grounds until they leave.

To this end Mr. Dillinger, the Association physical director, is spending a great deal of time in providing a program of games and athletics that will be suitable to all. One of the features of the day will be a horse-shoe pitching contest for the men. There will also be a "Knockers Contest" for the women; this event will take more ability to keep things straight and maintain a sweet disposition than the name might intimate. There will be special athletic events for the younger boys and girls, as well as for the young men and women.

Every one who attends the picnic will be urged to take part in the program of mass athletics. This will not be difficult or unsuitable, but will provide a great amount of wholesome fun for all. A program of mass games has not been used at picnics around Kingston; by this method, from thirty to four hundred people of all ages and sexes can be playing at one time, with limited space and equipment.

All members and friends of the Association who can be urged to spend Labor Day at the camp. Most of the groups will take a basket dinner with them; however, for those who do not provision will be made at the camp. Anyone planning to attend the picnic and desiring any information in regard to directions for getting there can obtain the same by dropping into the Y. or by calling up by phone.

A bus will leave the Y. M. C. A. building here at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning and will return at 7 o'clock in the evening. The fare for the round trip will be 80 cents.

HELD UP FERRY.

Auto Out of Place on Skilled Caus. Congestion.

Friday evening traffic over the creek was held up some time when an automobile met with an accident while leaving the deck of the faithful old "Skilledip." A Dodge coupe, driven by a woman, in leaving the ferry struck the gangway a glancing blow and one wheel bounced over the edge of the driveway. All traffic was held up while the captain and crew of the ferry secured jacks and ropes and raised the car back to the roadway. A bent mud guard was the only damage. The accident took place about 7 o'clock when traffic was at its height and before the ferry was again making regular trips a half a hundred or more cars were waiting on the Port Haven side to cross.

ALL NEW YORK MARKETS CLOSED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 4.—All markets were closed here today because of the coming Labor Day holiday.

The wholesale produce markets were liberally supplied with fruits and vegetables from practically all producing sections of New York state and of the country generally during the past week. With favorable weather conditions trading was fairly active for most commodities with very little change in prices since close of last week.

Arrivals of cranberry beans were very light from nearby but more plentiful from upstate. There was a wide range in prices due to the quality and condition of the stock. The best upstate berries sold for from $2.25 to $2.50 per bushel. Extra fancy berries selling at from $3.00 to $3.50 per bushel, whereas ordinary stock brought as little as $1.75.

Most of the crab apples that arrived this week were affected by disease consequently the market was slow and weak. The best stock sold for from $4.00 to $4.50 per bushel, with a few sales for extra apples slightly higher. Some ordinary stock sold for as little as $4.00 a barrel. There was an improved demand for hay and only moderate receipts, which caused the market to advance $2.00 to $3.00 a ton during the week. No. 1 Timothy (old hay) is now selling at $46 to $47 a ton for the large bales; new hay at $2.00 per ton less. Rye and oat straw advanced $1.00 to $2.00 per ton respectively.

TRAGEDY OF DELAY.

Veteran Dies Penniless With $700 Due From Government.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1.—With the United States government owing him $700 in back compensation and with an appeal made to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance to expedite the checks for the last two months' payments which had never been received in order that he might sign them on his death-bed to meet his funeral expenses, John Murray, totally disabled veteran of the World War, died here penniless. Death had outtraced red tape.

The receipt of the money two days too late was the closing episode in a tragedy of delay. While Murray was dying the Service Division of National Headquarters of the American Legion over the wires was urging the War Risk Bureau to action and the bureau, was unable to respond before the time limit. Murray's last hour of life, had expired. A week elapsed before the bureau answered the legion's telegraphed appeal with notice that the check was on its way.

Murray served overseas with the Third Field Artillery and was wounded in the foot, necessitating the amputation of his right leg near the hip. Later his lungs became affected by exposure on the battle field and through the efforts of the legion a claim for permanent total disability was allowed him.

Woman School Reminder.

A "reminder" in today's Freeman is the advertisement announcing that the fall classes of the Morant Business School, Kingston building, will begin next week—day school on Tuesday, night school, Wednesday. All day and night students who have been studying the summer months as a vacation period will, it is hoped, see the wisdom of resuming their regular studies at once. Preparations have been made for their return.

LABOR DAY WILL CLOSE SEASON

Kingston Point Park will officially close for the season Monday evening, but the park will be kept open as long as the weather is agreeable. The Citizens' Band closes its season at the park with the concert that evening. As an added attraction Tommy Dolan, the local tenor, will sing both Saturday and Sunday at the park.

The city playgrounds closed for the season this afternoon, although the apparatus will remain up and in use until the latter part of the month when it will be taken down and stored away until next season. The playground season has been the most successful in its history with a larger attendance and more interest shown than ever before.

The Twilight League closed the season Friday evening as told elsewhere.

Labor Day will be quietly celebrated in Kingston. All of the theaters will have special programs.

AT THE THEATERS.

John Barrymore Tonight—"Nightie Night" at Opera House.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," showing at Keeney's tonight for the last time, has given to the great actor an opportunity to display his mastery of the art. This photoplay is one of gripping intensity and magnificence of production. A Paramount Magazine and International news weekly are also featured. On Monday the beginning of Paramount Artcraft Week Keeney's will present Ethel Clayton in "More Deadly than the Male" and Tuesday Dorothy Dalton in "His Wife's Friend."

J. Stuart Blackton's beautiful production "Dawn," will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight. It's a story of a blind man's fight for life love and happiness, how he accomplishes all and finally regains his sight, makes a delightful romance. William Duncan in "The Silent Avenger" winds up fifteen weeks of the most exciting thrills this popular house has ever had in serial form. Monday Anne Cornwall in "The Girl in the Rain" and Elmo Lincoln in "Limo the Fearless."

Last season in New York two new playrights, Martha M. Stanley and Adelaide Matthews, hit the bull's eye of an instantaneous and overwhelming success with their well-awake farce, "Nightie Night," which ran to capacity audiences for six months at the Princess Theater. "Nightie Night" now on tour, will be presented at the Kingston Opera House tonight at 8:15 and the management promises that no comedy attraction this season will afford such opportunity for an evening of irresistible laughter and wholesome amusement.

To celebrate the tenth anniversary of his perennially successful epic of Hawaiian life, "The Bird of Paradise," Richard Walton Tully, its author, who will present the play at the Kingston Opera House next Wednesday night, ordered an entirely new scenic and wardrobe equipment this season.

Their Freedom, Wedding Gift.

As a wedding present Justice of the Peace O. E. Willet, of Preston Hollow, who committed them, gave them their freedom. Wojcik and Miss Smith were arrested in Coeymans last week by state troopers, who arraigned them before Justice Willet on technical charges of disorderly conduct, as it was believed Wojcik might be the man wanted for hanging Ralph Cook, an 11-year-old Coxsack boy, to the limb of a tree at Preston Hollow, August 17.

Blind Schooler Found $5.

TRY TO WRECK ELEVATED TRAINS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 4.—Two attempts to wreck elevated trains were made by strike sympathizers today, according to the police. Both traps were discovered in time to prevent disaster. The first attempt was on a trestle over Coney Island Creek on the West End, Brooklyn line, where a connecting rod between rails had been sawed in two. A special train loaded with 100 policemen and several hundred strike breakers was stopped a car's length from this trap.

A few minutes later inspectors found a 75 pound, 18 inch bar driven between the running rail and the guard rail on the same line near Bay street fifth station.

FIRE DRIVES OUT STRIKE BREAKERS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 4.—Two surface cars were destroyed and four others badly damaged by fire in the Ridge-wood car barns, Brooklyn, early today, and 500 strike breakers housed on the floor above the burning cars were forced to flee into the street, where strike sympathizers attacked them.

Firemen were hampered in putting out the fire and police reserves were forced to fire many shots before order was restored.

The disturbance followed a meeting of 3,000 strikers at 3 a. m., when Federal Judge Julius M. Mayer's "surrender terms" to the strikers were hoisted down.

Officials of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company declared the fire was started by strike sympathizers. When 15 policemen began to escort the strikers from their quarters, strike sympathizers appeared as if by magic on top of adjacent buildings and began hurling bricks, torn from chimneys, at the strike breakers.

Both policemen and their charges were injured by missiles. The policemen began firing into the air and their shots were answered by the attackers. No one was wounded by gunshots.

Reserves were quickly rushed from nearby police stations and they succeeded in restoring order.

Strike leaders have failed to win over power house, signal and other skilled unionized B. R. T. employees, in a sympathetic strike.

Company officials said today that 200 more employees reported for work this morning, making 1,000 in all who have deserted the ranks of the strikers. Many more were expected to return to work after Labor Day.

P. J. Shea, strike leader, said today an appeal might be made to the American Federation of Labor for support.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHING CORPS

Named By Board of Education—No Successor to McIntyre—School Costs Nearly $8,000—Eight New Teachers This Year.

The board of education held its adjourned regular meeting Friday afternoon and transacted considerable business.

The finance committee reported audited bills amounting to $9,100, of which $7,996.50 was for coal which has been placed in the schools during the summer vacation, and they were ordered paid.

The president and clerk were directed to enter into a contract with District No. 8 of the town of Ulster, which is that part of the town formerly belonging to the old Kingston school district, for education of pupils of the district who attend the Kingston schools.

The matter of collecting the tuition from the same district for the last term was referred to the corporation counsel. It will be recalled by readers of The Freeman that recently the collector of that district was arrested on a charge of misappropriating the district funds.

Superintendent Michael reported that Trustee Kearney was laid up with an injury to his foot but had reported that estimates secured for painting roofs of school buildings amounted to $200 and requested that the board authorize the committee to have the work done. On motion of Surrogate Gill, the matter was referred to the committee with power.

The visiting committee for September will consist of Surrogate Gill, Trustees Herbert and Flemming. The teachers' committee submitted the following report, which was adopted:

To the Honorable, the Board of Education:

Gentlemen: Your teachers' committee respectfully submits the following report:

In addition to resignations heretofore reported we have received the resignation of Sarah W. Park who was appointed as supervisor of drawing in place of Grace L. Pearce at a salary of $1,250. Miss Pearce is a graduate of Pratt Institute, comes to us highly recommended by the state department of education and has had about eight years' successful experience as a teacher of drawing.

In place of Mr. MacIntyre, teacher of mathematics in the high school, we have been unable to secure anyone at the present time. The principal and superintendent have both exerted every effort to fill his place with a suitable male teacher. We are now considering a promising candidate and hope a qualified teacher may be secured before the schools open next Tuesday.

As an assistant in the manual training department we have secured the services of Elsworth Mack of Rome, N. Y., at a salary of $1,500. Mr. Mack is a graduate of the Rome High School, has studied architecture at Cornell University and was graduated from the Mechanics Institute at Rochester.

Miss Sheehan is continued in the position for the next school year at the salary established by statute, viz. $1,000.

At the commencement of the vacation period we had five vacancies in the high school force of teachers. In order to fill the vacancies and complete the arrangements for the coming year it was necessary to make certain changes in the teaching force of the high school and to modify to some extent the arrangements heretofore made. ANNUAL MEETING OF CLUBWOMEN

The twenty-sixth annual convention of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs will take place in Utica October 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, according to announcement made yesterday by Mrs. George D. Hewitt of Carthage, president, who at the same time made known arrangements for the convention.

The New York Armory at Rutgers street, Utica, will be headquarters for the convention. The credential committee, Mrs. C. C. Luce, chairman, will meet delegates at the New Century Club House, 253 Genesee street, Monday at 1 p. m. to 10 p. m., and at the armory Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Reduced railway rates of 1-1-3 fare on the "certificate plan" have been arranged for the convention, providing there is an attendance of not less than 250 holding regularly issued certificates obtained from ticket agencies at starting points.

The Haimuth fellowship dinner in honor of the late Mrs. William Tod Haimuth of New York city, will take place Monday, October 11, in the Hotel Utica. Mrs. J. F. Calder of Utica has charge of the arrangements. Following the dinner the celebration of the tercentenary year of the federation will be featured.

The "formers," made up of former office holders in the federation, will have a luncheon in the New Century Club on Thursday, October 14th. Mrs. Albert Canfield Page of 251 West 92nd street, New York city, has charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. John C. Manion is in charge of the local arrangements for the occasion and Mrs. William J. Schuyler has charge of the hotels.

The convention will be of unusual importance this year as a complete new staff of officers will be elected. At present there are two candidates in the field for president, Mrs. Walter Comly of Portchester, who has received the endorsement of nearly every district in the federation, and Mrs. E. E. Bates of Ithaca. Mrs. John H. Booth of Plattsburg is apparently the leading candidate for first vice president.

In issuing call for the convention Mrs. Hewitt has announced that the official board will meet at the New Century Club in Utica at 9:45 on the morning of Monday, October 11th.

All district business and department chairmen have been invited to join the board meeting at 10:45 that day. The women members of the local arrangements committee of Utica will entertain the officers and chairmen of the federation at luncheon that day.

LICENSES ON PRESIDENT WILSON'S CAR

If you want to recognize President Wilson's automobile the next time you are in Washington, just take a good look at these license plates and you will have his number.

AUTO BRAKE IS OFTEN MISUSED

Should Be Frequently Inspected to Insure Proper Protection to Machine.

QUICK STOPS ARE HARMFUL

Effect on Car Is Not Such as to Increase Its Serviceability—Many Accidents Could Be Avoided by Overhauling.

An automobile is entitled to the same protection as a home. If one or the other is in danger of being destroyed or damaged immediate steps should be taken to prevent the possible loss.

As regards the automobile the greatest measure of protection is in good brakes. They should be regularly examined and adjusted. The brake linings are worn asbestos and copper wire and while nonburnable they will wear in correspondence with their judicious use or abuse. The brakes must be so adjusted that the linings bear evenly and with the same pressure on the brake drums.

Unfortunately the average driver does not use his brakes with any degree of discretion. He knows that they will stop the car and as a consequence keeps moving at his accustomed rate of speed until almost abreast of the point where he wishes to bring the machine to a stop. Then the brakes are suddenly applied and the car abruptly stopped. The average motor car weighs in the neighborhood of 3,000 pounds or more, and to bring this much weight to a sudden stop when traveling ten miles an hour or better requires the exertion of some pressure. It not only tends to wear the break out faster than necessary, but the effect on the car as a whole is not such as to increase its serviceability.

Many of the accidents that occur today could be avoided if the owner would but take a few minutes' time every week or ten days to himself examine, or have it done for him, the braking system of his car. Perhaps the last time that it became necessary to apply the brakes suddenly they functioned properly but when needed again in an emergency were found inefficient. Collisions many times occur because the brakes fail to work.

One way to insist upon good brakes is for the police department when investigating an accident to examine the brakes of the car or cars concerned and if they are found to be inefficient make this prima facie evidence of the guilt of the driver of the car. Motorists on the street cars, though they use the air brake the greater portion of the time, are required at five stops to use the hand brake. This is not because the hand brake is more efficient than the air, but to insure that it is in serviceable condition if it should become necessary to use it on account of the failure of the air. Certainly if this is good policy on a street car the same attention should be good for the motor car, be it passenger car or truck.

When they are running about the streets of the city with faulty means of bringing them to a sudden stop in case of necessity they are a source of danger not only to the occupants of the car itself, but to the other users of the streets as well.

Adjustment Not Needed.

Frequently a man starts to adjust a car when it does not need it.

WAYS SUGGESTED FOR DIMMING CAR LIGHTS

Use of Salts or Ground Glass Substitute Favored.

Glare May Be Effectively Diminished by Placing in Center of Lens, Immediately in Front of Bulb, a Spot of Mixture.

The rigid interpretation of local anti-glare headlight regulations in some localities has created a desire among motorists for some easy means for rendering the lights less bright without going to the bother and expense of substituting new lamp bulbs for those they are using.

One way out of the difficulty, says American Motorist, is the frosting of the lens or glass of the lamp. Buy 10 cents worth of epsom salt, dissolve it in about five ounces of water and flow the liquid over the glass on the inside. When dry the glass will be coated with frosting similar to ground glass.

A more permanent job can be made by using so-called "ground glass substitute," obtainable at photographic supply houses. Ground glass substitute should flow over the inside of the headlight glass by tilting the liquid evenly. One treatment with ground glass substitute will last for an entire season.

Instead of coating the entire headlight lens with ground glass substitute the glare of the light may be very effectively diminished by placing in the center of the lens, immediately in front of the light bulb, a round spot of ground-glass mixture, thus:

Cut a paper mask with a round opening in it about two inches in diameter. When the paste is well-dried flow ground-glass substitute over the circular spot not covered by paper and let it dry for about twenty minutes. Now soak the lens in cold water until the paper mask comes off, and nothing remains on the glass but the round spot of ground-glass substitute. There will be plenty of light left, but the direct glare will, have been eliminated.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

The funnel used to fill the oil tank should have a strainer in it of very fine wire. It keeps out any dirt, lint, etc.

When the crankcase is drained, the oil after being thoroughly strained may be used in the gear set during the cold weather.

Some car owners are using ammonia solution to brighten up the hood when the latter becomes dull. This is a bad practice.

When we find that a certain cylinder is missing explosions we must determine whether the fault is in the spark plug or not.

If the owner should have occasion to dismantle the springs he should take the opportunity to spread a lubricant over the leaves.

Try the fastenings at each lamp. The swaying of the wires causes them to weaken where they enter the lamp, so that they may break readily.

Go over the leather on the car occasionally with special leather dressing and the difference in the appearance of the upholstery will repay you a thousand times.

HAVEN OF FUGITIVE GIRLS

(C) Charlotte Palechla

Panic-stricken unfortunate of small towns and rural districts seek hiding place in city, and find haven of refuge in Salvation Army home and hospital.

THERE is a brownstone house on Stuyvesant Square, New York City, where a thousand unseen downhill paths come to an end. Those paths lead back into the depths of New York's East Side. Fully half of them pass on out again beyond the city into towns and rural districts all over New York state and New Jersey.

The brownstone house is the Woman's Home and Hospital of the Salvation Army. The unseen trails are made by the feet of unfortunate girls. And of the scores of such girls who came to the brownstone house last year, more than one-half, according to Salvation Army records, came not from the city but from the towns and country districts of the two states. Unable to face the scorn of those who knew them, they fled to the metropolis to hide.

Their flight was panic. They had no plans for the emergency they knew was coming. Some were found by Salvation Army lassies in the sordid corners of the slums, where they hid themselves. Some in desperation appealed for aid to the officers at the Army's street meetings. Some were found by the police adrift in the city streets, and taken to the house in Stuyvesant Square. So Lieutenant-Colonel Emma J. Bown, in charge of the Home, tells of the way her charges come to her.

Inside the brownstone house each girl finds a hospital, a home and friends. Here she is cared for and given shelter, usually for six months, until she is ready to begin life again. Some girls are restored to their homes. Some are found positions. And when they go out of the brownstone house they leave the past behind them.

The Salvation Army Woman's Home and Hospital has room for 50 girls. Last year 135 passed through the institution, and emerged to a new life. It is for the maintenance of this work that part of the $10,000,000 Home Service Fund for which the Army will appeal between May 10 and 20, will be used. New York and New Jersey will be asked to give $2,500,000 to the fund.

HINES AND MALIA NOW IN JAIL

Extradited from New Jersey on Port
Each Assault Charge—Mrs. Hines
out on Bail—Herbert Williams begins serving 10-day sentence.

The roster at the Ulster county jail today shows three new boarders in and out. The latter is Frances Hines, the woman arrested for abandoning a six weeks' old child at Glascow and held for the grand jury.
She was released on bail.

John Hines and Peter Malia of Port Jervis, arrested on a bench warrant, having been indicted last autumn for assault in the second degree, were brought up from Jersey
City early this morning by Sheriff
Wright J. Smith and Seth Jocelyn and placed in the jail. They were arrested several days ago in Jersey City and extradition papers secured from Governor Alfred E. Smith. Friday
the two men were turned over to the Ulster county authorities.
Herbert Williams was brought from New Paltz to serve 90 days, having been found guilty of petit larceny in that town. Williams has been employed at the Lake Mohonk Mountain House and for some time articles have been missing from the rooms of guests. George Young, officer at the resort, suspected Williams, who had gone to his home at New Paltz, and obtained a warrant for his arrest. Deputy Sheriff W.

Chipp Tamney placed Williams under arrest but while the deputy sheriff was preparing to bring Williams to jail he managed to make a getaway. Under Sheriff Tunis Haulen-beck was notified over the telephone of the escape and learning that Williams had been at Poughkeepsie, where he had disposed of some of his booty, called up Henry Elliot, the deputy sheriff at Highland, requesting him to watch out for Williams, who might go to the ferry, which he did and soon after located him man, took him into custody and turned him over to Deputy Sheriff Young of Lake Mohonk. Williams was taken before the justice of the peace at New Paltz and as there was not sufficient bounty located to make a more serious charge he was charged with a misdemeanor, a lesser crime, and found guilty and given the jail sentence of 90 days.

"NIGHTIE NIGHT" CO. HERE.

Greatest Laughing Treat in Years
Promised Tonight.

Utilizing automobiles, speedy motor boats and railroad trains, the members of Adolph Klauber's production of "Nightie Night," the screamingly funny comedy that comes to the Kingston Opera House this afternoon and tonight flocked into Kingston this morning.

Arthur Raymond, Bruce Elmore
and Reynolds Evans, with several other stars of the company arrived by train, while Olive Shelley, Emma Cunningham and Lucille Wall have shown an inclination to use a Packard touring car now that a four cent a mile fare is current. (Not that they pay the fare, it is only to prove how solicitous they are for the management's funds.) Robert Harrington and Edward Harford arrived in Mr.
Harrington's speedy motor boat.

"Nightie Night 2."

That this splendid production made by Adolph Klauber will be warmly welcomed is a certainty, for it will come as a great treat after the heavily plays we have been surfeited with recently.

To tell the story of "Nightie Night"
would be to spoil all the fun in store for anxious playgoers, suffice to say that the farce, which is in a prologue and three acts, revolves around the marital mixup of several young couples, who are involved in a series of most amusing incidents which, although innocent enough to themselves, appear for a time to be extremely compromising.

For lovers of laughter, "Nightie Night" is promised as the greatest laughing treat in years, as it comes direct from a year's run at the New York Princess Theatre, with all the beautiful settings used during the lengthy run so that Kingston theatregoers will be able to see the production just as it was presented in New York.

If you are worn out, blue, downhearted or depressed, and out for a glorious evening's entertainment don't miss "Nightie Night."

Schuler's Band Pleased Dancers.
Prof. Schuler of Beacon, N. Y., and his jazz band made a decided hit with a large crowd at the Casino at Kingston Point Park Thursday evening.
The largest crowd that has been at the Casino this season was in attendance. They also gave a classy concert at the corner of Strand and Broadway earlier in the evening. The prize fox-trot was won by Prof. Conklin and Miss Davis of Beacon, N. Y.
There was only one other entry for the event, Prof. Robinson and Miss Greaves of Newburgh, and the couples were one of the finest exhibitions ever seen in this city. The judges were selected from this city and the award received the approval of all those present. An attempt will be made to secure the services of Prof. Schuler for another appearance of his band in the near future.

BEST PLAYERS IN ACTION MONDAY

Dick Williams, Artie Rice and a Pitching "Phenomenon" From Trenton
Will Help Kingston in Two Battles
With Strong Kaysees.

When the Kingston team and the Kaysees line up at the Athletic Field
Monday for their big Labor Day double header attraction the fans of Kingston are going to see two of the best baseball games ever staged in Kingston between local teams. Both teams are out for a double win as the games are practically for the championship of the city. Some of the best local players will be seen in uniform and both games should provide plenty of excitement. A number of the players who usually appear in uniform with the Kingston team will be with the Kaysees on Monday but their places have been filled with the best available material and the fans of Kingston are assured of two of the best games ever staged between local teams.

The game Monday morning will be called at 10:30 o'clock sharp with "Cannon-ball" Dick Williams serving the sprints and "Hank" Smedes on the receiving end for Kingston.
"Pete" Kearney will hold down the first sack with "Artie" Rice on second. "Kid" Moore will handle the hot ones around short stop and "Ken" Hornbeck will cover third. Out in the garden will be Druck in left field,

"Cy" Conners in center field and Tommy Cullen in right field. Although the Kaysees are putting a strong team in the field they will have to travel some to beat the Kingston team combination.

In the afternoon the game will be called at 3:30 sharp and at this time the Kingston team is going to spring their big surprise of the day in the shape of an out-of-town pitcher. Harry Eberspacher of Trenton, N. J., who has the reputation of being the "big smoke" will be on the firing line. Eberspacher is a brother-in-law of Ballard and comes to the Kingston team with a great recommendation. Westfall will be on the receiving end. "Pete" Kearney will cover the initial sack with Tom Cullen on second. Maisenhelder will play the short stop position and Hasbrouck on third. There will also be a couple of changes out in the field in the afternoon game.
Druck will play the left field position but there will be a change in the other two positions. McLean will camp out in center field and Brown will be found in right field.

There is great speculation as to the outcome of the afternoon game and great things are expected of "Harry." He comes with a good record in his home state and the fans may expect something worthwhile at either the morning or afternoon game Monday.

Friday evening at Forsyth Park
the Clinton Avenue Sunday School

The Clinton Avenue boys started scoring in the first inning and were not overtaken, though the Aetna

ning.

This makes one game each team has won, and a deciding game will be played in the near future. The line-
